Creator–brand deals are too fragmented

✓ Discovery, negotiation, delivery and payment often sit in separate touchpoints.

✓ Terms can stay scattered across chats, making scope and revisions harder to track.

✓ Creators need clearer visibility from the first conversation to final payout.

Creators get payment protection before work begins

- ✓ The brand funds the agreed amount into escrow before creation begins.
- ✓ Revision limits keep feedback cycles defined.
- ✓ After two submissions, a dispute option is available.
- ✓ An auto-release timer protects against brand ghosting after posting.

Creators get verified credibility without screenshot chasing

Without a verified connection

Creators repeatedly assemble screenshots while brands spend time checking whether the numbers are current.

With GigTryst

Creator stats are pulled read-only through official Meta and YouTube APIs, giving brands a current, consistent view without repeated manual screenshots.

Creators get a visible payout trail

- ✓ Payments run through Razorpay.
- ✓ TDS and GST handling are built into the payment flow.
- ✓ The funded amount stays linked to the agreed deal flow.
- ✓ Track deal status and financial activity in one place.
